Our home

Mercy Place Montrose offers a new experience in aged care where you and your family can feel right at home. Our innovative small household living approach promotes independence, choice and relationships.

Completed in 2020, this state-of-the-art building has 16 contemporary households split over two levels.

Our home takes a community-centred approach to aged care, with residents living in small households supported by a dedicated team of care staff.

Each 'household' is designed for up to eight residents and features its own modern kitchen, open-plan living and dining area and laundry. Many rooms enjoy views of the Dandenong Ranges from a private balcony or peaceful courtyard.

Living in a small household provides the opportunity for your care team to get to know you, your family and what is important to you. Likewise, you can get to know your care team and fellow residents.

Residents, families and staff are encouraged to work together to enjoy meaningful daily activities both within the home and outside it.

At Mercy Place Montrose, you can live as independently as you choose, with the security and peace of mind that help is on hand when you need it.

Mercy Place Montrose provides additional services for residents. Please speak with the Service Manager for a full list of services and the cost.

of Mercy Place Montrose.

The modern story of Mercy Health began with the founding of the Order of the Sisters of Mercy in Dublin in 1831 by Catherine McAuley, who dedicated her life to serving people in need.

The Sisters of Mercy went on to found convents, schools and hospitals across the globe. They arrived in Australia in 1846, led by Mother Ursula Frayne.

Following a devastating influenza pandemic, the Sisters of Mercy opened their first Victorian hospital — St Benedict's in Malvern — in 1920.

As Mercy Health, they established a reputation for excellence in care and hospitality that has grown in strength to this day.

A leading Catholic provider of health, aged and community services, our history and future is based on responding to the most significant needs of the time.

We employ and care for people of all faiths and no faith. Our people come from many cultures and backgrounds but share a common goal: to provide compassionate and responsive care to people in need.
